

Andrew McMahon

Andrew McMahon was appointed to the Board of the St. Lawrence County Industrial Development Agency in August 2007.

Andy is Superintendent of the Town of Massena Electric Department, one of 47 municipally-owned power companies in New York State with a system that covers 131 square miles and provides power to over 9,000 customers.

He received a BS in Electrical Engineering from Union College in Schenectady and has an extensive background in the energy industry to support economic development.

He worked at DuPont and also in various capacities at Duke Energy North America. He is a member of Rotary International.

Andy resides in Massena.

His current term on the IDA Board expires in September 2019.